

just nipped round...

for tea with the nation's favourite clean up team, Kim and Aggie

Hello my dears, very nice to meet you. Now, I wonder if you'd like to tell me what you're up to at the moment?

Aggie: We are in the process of filming series five - would you believe it? - of How Clean is Your House? and we are also about to launch our own brand of environmentally-friendly cleaning products, Squeeki Clean.

Kim: Yes, my love, we're on our fifth series and we are also filming four return visits after six months to see how people are getting on in their 'cleaned up' homes.

When How Clean is Your House? came about, were you very shocked to get the parts? Did you know that it would be so successful?

Kim: It was all a great shock. One minute I was working for a Sheikh in Kent as a housekeeper and two weeks after the first call, we were filming.

Aggie: I had been working at Good Housekeeping and I had done a bit of television before but nothing like this. When I went for the screen test - because no-one else wanted to do it - I came away thinking 'I really want this'. The next thing I knew we were filming, we ended up in America and then it all went mad.

Do you walk the walk with your own homes? Are they super-spotless?

Aggie: No, it's not I'm afraid! I've got two sons and their mates are round all the time. It's a constant battle. What I like to say is that it's a balance between a happy and healthy home!

Kim: Oh, please don't insult me! I've been cleaning for years and my home is spotless! All my tins are lined up the right way in the cupboards in neat little rows...

Very important question: do you drive? And, if you do, do you keep your car completely grime free and any tips here?

Aggie: I'm much better than I used to be, and much better now that the boys are growing up (no more sticky fingers). My tip here is always to have a rubbish bag in the car - that's vital.

Kim: I don't drive, but my husband does. I'm obsessive about the car, neurotic even - my husband is under strict instructions, not to leave a mark on the car, ever!

The next series of How Clean is Your House? will be on Channel 4 this year.
